Four Airmen Parachute To Safety

Carney, Okla. (AP)—A giant B-36 bomber and an F-51 fighter plane collided yesterday during a practice bombing run on the state capital. Thirteen men were killed.

Witnesses said the six-engine B-36, world's largest bomber, exploded when hit, scattering wreckage and bodies over a square-mile area.

Four other airmen parachuted to safety.

The bomber, from Carswell Air Force base at Fort Worth, was believed to have carried a crew of 15 and a civilian technician. The F-51 carried only the pilot.

Officials at Carswell said the B-36 was making a radar bombing run on Oklahoma City. The F-51 was making "pursuit tactical passes" at the huge bomber in interception maneuvers, a Carswell spokesman said.

Residents in this area, some 50 airline miles northwest of Oklahoma City, said the roar of the explosion rattled windows and brought them running from their homes.

At least eight parachutes were seen to open after the collision. Some of the airmen whose parachutes opened apparently were killed by the explosion or died before they were reached.

The highway patrol dispatched eight units to the scene to assist in finding the cut and broken bodies. Patrolmen established a guard around the wreckage and the bodies at the request of the Air Force. The victims were not identified immediately, pending notification of the next of kin.

The B-36 broke into five pieces. Seven bodies were found near the nose, which was rolled up like an old tin can. About a quarter-mile away the tail assembly, sticking into the air, marked the point where three other bodies lay.

A mile south of the tail was a section of the fuselage with the wings and engines still intact. One of the wing-tip tanks holding fuel for the bomber's jet engines had broken loose and sailed over the ground and burst into flames.

The body of the F-51 pilot lay crumpled near the wing.

Apparently the fighter plane struck the big silver ship between the wing and tail section.

One unidentified survivor said the pilot had time to order the crew to bail out. He said he and two others were in the tail section. One of the three did not have a parachute. The others got away before the explosion.

One witness said the body of one victim struck the ground so hard that it made a hole ten inches deep.

The wreckage of the F-51 also was scattered over a wide area of the rolling farm land of Lincoln county, in east-central Oklahoma.

The smaller plane was one of four fighters from Will Rogers field at Oklahoma City which were engaging in the maneuvers. They were assigned to Air National Guard units recently federalized into regular Air Force service.

It was the second collision involving military aircraft this week. A Cuban airliner and a Navy plane collided over Key West, Fla., Wednesday, killing 43 persons.

Eleven crewmen were killed in another Air Force plane crash announced yesterday. A spokesman at Walker Air Force base, Roswell, N. M., said a B-29 cracked up and burned Thursday in the Azores while making an emergency landing. Eleven men were killed and five injured. The B-29 stationed at the New Mexico base, was on a training mission.

Cancels Speech
London (AP)—Winston Churchill yesterday cancelled a planned speech in the United States—presumably to avoid greeting embroiled in the American political dispute over General MacArthur.

OPS To Order Rollbacks On Live Cattle Prices; Provide Specific Ceilings

Washington, (AP)—The government plans to announce dollars-and-cents ceiling prices on beef tonight.

Officials who reported this last night said the orders provide for progressive rollbacks on prices of live cattle with eventual lower prices to consumers—but with no immediate effect on retail prices of meat.

One official told a reporter the orders will bring cutbacks of three to four cents a pound at retail in mid-summer, with a similar reduction at wholesale and retail levels and regulate the price which packers may pay for live cattle. By setting ceiling which may be paid for live animals, the government would be putting the rollback in effect.

An Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) official said that by starting at the live animal base a price squeeze on wholesalers and retailers will be relieved. Slaughterers have had to pay steadily rising prices for animals but have been forbidden to pass on these increased costs.

British Ammunition Ship Explodes While Unloading; 10 Killed, 1,000 Injured

Gibraltar, (AP)—The 1,152-ton British ammunition ship Bedenham blew up yesterday with an earth-shaking blast as she unloaded at this Mediterranean rock fortress. Ten workers were believed killed and more than 1,000 injured.

Naval authorities said 500 tons of ammunition—all aboard the Bedenham—went up in smoke.

Car Belonging To Judge Davis Reported Stolen

A gray Hudson coupe, owned by President Judge Fred W. Davis of the Monroe-Pike judicial district, was reported stolen last night.

Travis J. Seese, assistant chief of East Stroudsburg police, said the coupe, a 1939 model, was taken from in front of the Whittaker service station on N. Courtland St., at approximately 5 p.m., although attendants were not sure anything was amiss until 8 p.m.

The car bears Pennsylvania license tag ZU 578.

The vehicle, which has been kept at the service station, was reportedly moved to the street to facilitate movement of other cars at the station.

11-Year Prisoner Gets New Trial

Philadelphia, (AP)—Everett de Boin walked out of Eastern State penitentiary yesterday for the first time in nearly 11 years. He was free under $1,000 bond to await a new trial on robbery charges.

Outside, he turned and spat at the big black gate that had closed behind him so long ago.

A gaunt, 41-year-old man with a prisoner's close-cropped hair, de Boin took only a few paces toward a taxi waiting at the curb. Then he turned and spat again. Then he stepped into the cab and it moved away.

House Unit Cuts Appropriations

Washington, (AP)—A 10 per cent cut in the 1952 fiscal year budget of 27 Federal agencies was recommended yesterday by the House Appropriations committee.

The committee asked the House to give these agencies—whose budgets are lumped into a single bill—$6,171,777,440 for the 12 months starting July 1. This is $665,900,025 less than President Truman requested.

Both resort properties have been successful resort operations under the late Mr. Howlett, catering to an excellent clientele. Work will be rushed to get both properties in operation in the near future.

Draft Measure Delayed Month

Washington, (AP)—The firing of General MacArthur yesterday brought a delay of at least two weeks—more likely a month—in efforts to reach a compromise on new draft-UMT legislation.

Senators will be completely occupied next week and for some time in the MacArthur hearings. Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services committee explained to reporters.

He referred to the hearings his committee and the Senate Foreign relations committee will conduct into the MacArthur issue.

14,000 To Be Seized

Washington, (AP)—Congress has been notified that at least 14,000 persons will be rounded up in the United States and placed in political detention camps in the event of full-scale war. The figures were furnished by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Congressman Dies

Washington, (AP)—Rep. Frank Buchanan (D-Pa.) died last night in the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., after an illness of four weeks. Buchanan, 48, was from Pittsburgh. He was first elected to the 70th Congress at a special election in 1946 and had been a member since.

Two Howlett Hotels Sold To Area Men

One of the most important resort-hotel real estate transactions to be completed in the Pocono Mountains was announced yesterday as the transfer of ownership of the Pocono Mountain Inn in Upper Paradise Valley and the Skyline Inn, Mount Pocono, to a regional group of experienced resort hotelmen.

Both properties are part of the estate of the late Thomas S. J. Howlett and were operated for years by Mr. Howlett. The change in ownership did not affect St. Patrick's Inn, near Mount Pocono, nor the famed Pocono Canyons Lodge in Skyline Park, also part of the Howlett estate.

Attorney Charles R. Bensinger is taking title to Pocono Mountains Inn and Skyline Inn for the local group which will set up a corporation. Full liquor licenses go with both places which are also completely furnished and equipped for operations.

The new owners negotiated the purchase with Attorney C. D. Shull, Stroudsburg, who represents the Howlett estate.

It is understood they moved yesterday to complete inventories of contents of both properties and have already planned to name a top-flight resort hotelman as manager of both properties in time for operation during the 1951 season.

Pocono Mountains Inn, formerly the Crestwood hotel, was extensively developed by Mr. Howlett when he became the owner. The same is true of Skyline Inn, which was formerly the Devonshire Pines at Mount Pocono.

Pocono Mountain Inn has 44 fully equipped rooms, extensive kitchen facilities, a bar, public rooms and the famous Rainbow Room which has been operated as a resort night club.

There are 72 acres of land with the Pocono Mountain Inn property and a large, modern swimming pool.

The new owners indicated yesterday they plan to develop this property as an extensive cottage colony centering around the main hotel property.

Skylane Inn property has nine acres and in addition to the 84-room main hotel, two large cottages—the Bradley and Coan cottages—are included in the transfer.

Skyline Inn will be operated on a year-round basis. The joint operation during summer seasons will make the big Pocono Mountains Inn pool and its famous Rainbow Room available to Skyline guests.

Mr. Bensinger also indicates that

Skyline will be available for residential guests during "off" seasons and that plans also call for development of patronage from business groups, small convention and conference groups.

Both resort properties have been successful resort operations under the late Mr. Howlett, catering to an excellent clientele. Work will be rushed to get both properties in operation in the near future.

Dems Endorse Justice Ladner

Harrisburg, (AP)—Democratic leaders of Pennsylvania yesterday endorsed Justice Grover C. Ladner of Philadelphia for a full 21-year term on the State Supreme court.

The endorsement gave Ladner support of the Democratic organization at the July 24 primary election. He was appointed to the State's highest tribunal last year by former Gov. James H. Duff.

Twelve members of the party's committee decided unanimously to back the Philadelphia jurist. Four members were absent.

One of the absent members, John J. Kane, Allegheny county commissioner, sent a telegram proposing Judge Michael A. Musmanno, of the Allegheny County Common Pleas court for the endorsement.

He referred to the hearings his committee and the Senate Foreign relations committee will conduct into the MacArthur issue.

Junior History Societies Meet Here, Elect Officers

High school and junior high school students from schools throughout northeastern Pennsylvania attended the annual regional conference of Junior Historical societies here yesterday at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

During an election of officers held during the afternoon session, Nancy Westbrook, an eighth grade student at the Smithfield school, was elected to one of the vice-presidential posts, while Shirley Bishong, a Stroudsburg High sophomore from Mount Pocono, was named to a secretary's position for the next school year.

During a series of talks by the student delegates, Emma Player, a junior at Stroudsburg High, gave an account of the origin of the Monroe county seat, while Peggy Gearhart, another Stroudsburg High pupil, presented an explanation of the Junior Historian activities at the local school.

Conference theme was "My Community's Contribution to State and Local Government," according to Raymond P. Harding, Stroudsburg High teacher who is northeast district sponsor of the state-wide organization.

Other topics discussed yesterday include: Origin of My Country, Judges of My Country, history of the various countries, geographical sketches and biographies of prominent attorneys throughout the state.

Pet Show At YMCA Today

Ten more reservations made last night completed plans for the YMCA pet show scheduled for today at the Monroe County Y property on Main St., Stroudsburg.

All contestants are to be ready at 12:30 p.m., since the show commences at 1, Stern said.

Shawnee

Mr. and Mrs. John Stubblefield moved from the Shawnee Lodge on Monday into the red brick house at the entrance to the Shawnee Inn, which has been completely redecorated and which was formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Flather.

Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr. left on Tuesday for Webb City, Mo. for a visit with her mother, Mrs. William C. Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Livingston Gearhart, accompanied by Raymond Lee, returned on Tuesday after a three weeks concert tour through the Carolinas and into Virginia. The former's mother, Mrs. Lillian Gearhart, of South Orange, N. J. is visiting her son and daughter-in-law this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Culkin spent Wednesday in Hoboken, N. J., visiting the latter's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. McFeeley.

G. Willard Stetler returned to his office on Thursday after being laid up a week following a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray de Mars have arrived back in Shawnee after spending the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla., and will again occupy one of the Fairfax bungalows.

Four Hurt, One Seriously, When Hit By Car

Driver Held For Court On Charge

A five-year-old boy, his mother and father, and a five-weeks-old baby brother were injured shortly before 11 p.m. Thursday when they were hit by a car which bore down on them as they were walking to their home on the Foxtown Hill section of Route 611.

The injured, James Ludwig, 32, Stroudsburg RD 1; his wife, Elizabeth, 28; five-year-old Charles Ludwig and the infant son, Henry, were removed to Monroe County General hospital after passing motorists notified Stroudsburg State police.

Ludwig, his wife and the five-weeks-old baby escaped with only superficial injuries, but five-year-old Charles was in serious condition at the hospital last night.

He received a possible skull fracture, a fracture of the upper right leg, and abrasions and lacerations on the right side of his face.

All four of the injured persons were admitted and held as patients.

Hospital authorities said that the condition of Charles Ludwig was "as good as can be expected" at 10 p.m. They added that physicians have found the infant, Henry, to be in good condition, and that the baby, the mother and the father will probably be permitted to leave the hospital today.

The car, which ran into the family and also killed a small dog, pet of the five-year-old, never stopped at the scene but continued down the hill into Stroudsburg.

Two alert passersby in a car which was passed by the hit-run vehicle swung about on the highway and chased the car long enough to ascertain its license number.

This information, in the hands of Pfc. Alex G. Kearn and Stephen Sabin, of the Stroudsburg State police detachment, resulted in the pre-dawn arrest of Paul H. Schaller, 32-year-old mechanic, of 114 N. Ninth St.

Schaller was charged with failing to stop at the scene of accident when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser in East Stroudsburg at 2:30 p.m. The justice held Schaller for court under $500 bail.

According to an account which several of the victims gave State troopers and District Attorney Detlef A. Hansen, the Ludwig family was walking along the left edge of the highway just above the uphill turn and not far from the Stroudsburg borough line when the accident occurred. They were walking the short distance to their home.

An older son, David, was reported to have been walking uphill at the side of the road ahead of the others. He was followed by Mrs. Ludwig, who was carrying the baby in her arms. The father, the lad, Charles, and the dog were bringing up the rear.

Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Van Buskirk and son, Clifford, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Van Buskirk.

Mrs. John Transue spent Monday afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Harry Niering.

They said they saw the car coming downhill toward them at a moderate speed, and that the machine seemed to veer toward them as it reached the section of the highway along which they were walking.

All scrambled to get out of the way, but the right front of the car struck Mrs. Ludwig's leg as she stood near the guard rail, throwing the baby away from her over the railing in an attempt to shield it.

As she was knocked against the railing, the infant slipped out of her hands and fell to the ground.

The car then hit the dog, young Charles, and the father. The dog was killed instantly, and the father and son were thrown to the guard rail.

Police said Richard Hammond, of Monroe, was in a car driven by Hammond, noticed the figures against the guard rail as they came uphill after passing the hit-run car on the lower side of the curve.

They recalled that they could not see the point at which the former is employed by the Shawnee Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sittig are leaving today for White Plains, N. Y., where they will hold an exhibit at the Antiques Show during the coming week.

If you are the kind of person who likes to push buttons and fiddle around with strange-looking gadgets to see what will happen, you'll keep very busy at the Northeastern Pennsylvania science fair.

Almost 200 exhibits are displayed in the American Legion hall in East Stroudsburg. They represent all the major fields of science—biology, chemistry, engineering and physics.

For those interested in gardening there is a display of commercial food culture containing vitamins and plant hormones. Take a look at this exhibit and you'll know how to grow those "bigger and better" tomato plants.

Nearby there is a plastic demonstration which shows how plastic is processed and the innumerable ways it is utilized in a modern industrial society.

There is an old saying that milk is the perfect food. There is an exhibit at the fair that will show just how perfect it is... and just exactly what you drink when you drink a glass of milk.

For the home enthusiasts, there are a series of model homes constructed out of balsa wood and hand-painted. The roofs are removable so the floor plans and furniture arrangements can be inspected, and even the windows work.

For homeowners who want burglar protection, there is an exhibit which shows how a warning bell system can be attached to doors and windows.

Ludwigs were hit when the other vehicle passed them going downhill, but they said they observed that the other machine appeared to be veering away from the guard rail and later recalled commenting on that possibility as the headlights came toward them.

On sighting the injured parties, they immediately turned about on the highway and sped back downhill where they caught up with the other car in front of Lee's diner on Park Ave.

Copying the license number, then swinging about, they hurried back up the hill to the victims.

District Attorney Hansen said Schaller was questioned at his home on Ninth St., after the registration number of the car had been checked with police files.

The car was inspected and Schaller was taken to Monroe County General hospital where an examination showed that he was not under the influence of intoxicants.

The district attorney said, however, that in a statement to police, the defendant admitted having driven to a tavern in Delaware Water Gap late Thursday after first stopping at several places in Stroudsburg.

Schaller also told the troopers that he had seen what he thought were three women as he drove down the Stroudsburg side of the mountain, but he insisted he never knew he had hit anyone.

He had heard a woman's scream, he admitted, but didn't stop be-

This is the final day for the fair. It will be open to the public from 1 to 9 p.m.

Coordinator of the fair is Thomas H. Knepp, head of the science department at Stroudsburg High school and president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science.

He has been assisted by Dr. W. G. Moore, chairman of the judges; Andrew W. Lewis and Alfred J. Raveli, in charge of finances; Michael F. Hannon, chairman of properties.

Members of the fair's advisory committee, in addition to the men listed above are Ernest H. Wyckoff, Earl F. Gruber.

Both grand prizes in the junior and senior division respectively were contributed by Dr. Claus G. Jordan and Mr. Wyckoff.

The commissioner said he has a deep pride in his record and his main ambition is to serve another term to aid in guiding affairs so that the county shall be debt-free.

spending sometime with Mrs. Staiger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Randall Carpenter.

Mrs. Rufus Brown returned to Utica, N. Y., after being a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Transue for several days.

Mrs. William Smith will entertain the VCC Card club at her home in Slateford on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Staiger and son, Charles, have returned to their home in Utica, N. Y., after cause he didn't think he was involved, he said. He later told his wife on reaching his home that "something must have happened on Foxtown hill" because he had heard a woman screaming.

After the examination at the hospital, Schaller was taken to county jail to await the hearing before Justice Bonser. At that time, he was represented by Atty. James C. Scanlon.

Dr. Harold S. Pond will be out of town April 29th through May 3rd, inclusive.—Adv.

Zones Creep Westward

Daylight saving time—adopted annually as a summer-time measure by sections and municipalities in more than half the 48 states—will go into effect early Sunday morning. While this change is a temporary local measure, it calls attention to the fact that man-devised time belts have been moving westward. In the United States, shifts in time zone boundaries, ordered only after study of the local factors involved, have caused the zones to creep steadily westward since 1918, notes the National Geographic Society. Each such shift in effect brings permanent daylight saving to the area included.

In October, 1918, the Interstate Commerce Commission first defined the time boundaries for the United States. Its authority to determine the zones and change them when necessary came from the Standard Time Act passed by Congress the preceding March. Prior to this legislation, the four time zones—eastern, central, mountain and Pacific, using "sun" time at the 75th, 90th, 105th and 120th meridians respectively—had been in use by the nation's railroads for nearly 35 years.

ICC directives, averaging one a year since 1919, have concerned changes in time zone boundaries. Nine affected the line in Ohio, nudging it westward from the center of the state in 1919 until, finally, all Ohio came into the eastern time zone.

In 1922 the city of Detroit and in 1936 the entire lower peninsula of Michigan moved from the central to the eastern zone. Other westward shifts of the same boundary in 1941 brought western Georgia to eastern time, and in 1947 and 1949 put the western tips of Virginia and North Carolina on the eastern seaboard's time, along with small additional portions of eastern Tennessee and Kentucky.

Similarly, changes ordered from 1921 on brought western parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and North Dakota from the mountain to the central zone; and western Montana and southern Idaho from Pacific to mountain time.

Hence, today's map of U.S. Standard Time belts plainly shows the westward shift in comparison with the same map of 1919. The western, central and mountain belts now lie three-fourths or more to the west of the meridians on which their respective times are based. The Pacific belt, originally land-heavy to the east of its 120th meridian axis, is now almost in balance.

Facts And Figures

Tax outlook is a small and vital publication issued periodically by the Tax Foundation, a privately-endowed organization devoted to economy in government.

In a recent issue, Tax Outlook quotes some facts and figures which dramatically explain one reason why it costs so much to exist these days—the cost of government on a rampage.

For instance, the goods and services bought by the Federal Government rose 231 per cent from 1939 to 1949. In other words, from 13 billion dollars to more than 43 billions.

Spending by the executive offices of the President and the independent offices of the Government went up—between 1941 and 1949—596 per cent. From $1,438,000,000 to $10,000,000.

In 1939, the per capita interest paid on the public debt was $8.13. In 1949, it was $36.64.

In the states, the money spent on health alone rose 132 per cent from 1939 to 1949.

In 1939, the average per capita collection of taxes for state governments in the U.S. was $30.01. Ten years later it was $60.65.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

From a speech by Phil Murray, of the C.I.O.: A circus barker was teaching his young son how to manipulate a big, black whip. "Let's see you flick the top off that horse's ear," the boy ordered. The barker did it with ease. "Now flick the fly off that horse's ear," the boy ordered. It was done so neatly, the horse never blinked an eye. Then the boy pointed to a wasp's nest in the crook of a tree branch and said, "How about taking that nest off with your whip, daddy?" The barker said, "Nothing doing, son; they're organized."

One of the big laughs in "Life with Mother" came when an objectionably smug visitor told Father his country place looked bare, and "needed more trees. "We've got a lot planted," said Father with an edge to his voice, "but they're very young yet. I hope they'll be full grown by the time you visit us again."

Hollywood

Hollywood — Helen Hayes is making her first movie in 18 years—and she's "terrified."

"I never did anything in my life that I wasn't," the grand dame of the American theater reflected. "The worst thing is, it gets worse as you get older."

The five-foot, 50-year-old actress is playing Robert Walker's mother in "My Son John." The plot's a secret, but it has something to do with a mother's suffering when her son, a government employee, turns Commie.

Director Leo McCarey had a tough time luring Miss Hayes back to the screen. Numerous long-distance calls to her in New York got only polite refusals.

The Federated Women's clubs of the county will be represented at the 54th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs which will open Monday in York, and will adjourn at noon on May 2.

Mrs. Harry W. Schaaf, of Erie will preside at the meetings with the theme of the convention, "Know Yourself — Understand Your Neighbor."

Mrs. Paul Koenig, of Spring Grove, a former president of the state federation, is general chairman. She has appointed Mrs. Arthur Helmes of Stroudsburg as a member of the registration committee.

Among the speakers will be Dr. William G. Mather and Dr. William M. Smith of Pennsylvania State College; Gore Vidal, writer; Charles Collingwood, CBS Washington correspondent; and state chairman and officials.

A Junior luncheon will be held on Tuesday when Dr. Pacita L. Pronove, president of the Junior Women's club of the Philippines will be the speaker.

Representing the Stroudsburg Senior Woman's club will be Mrs. George T. Robinson and Mrs. Frank French. Mrs. James Cummings and Mrs. Olaf Pedersen will represent the Junior Women's club.

The Barrett Woman's club and the Saylorburg Progressive Women as well as the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs also plan to send delegates.

Korean Speaks

Gifts of American churches to Korea, meant literally the difference between life and death for hundreds of Koreans. Mrs. Pillai Kim Choi, of Seoul, Korea, told the assembly in a moving talk. She told how dried milk, doled out a cup to each person per day had been all that kept hundreds from dying in the early days of the war, and brought the deep gratitude of her countrymen for what the church people had done to help them.

At the luncheon at the Penn-Stroudsburg hotel, brief reports by the chairmen told of the quotas for the national missions for the coming year.

The Presbytery closed with a Communion service administered by Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, pastor of the host church.

One of the sidelights of the meeting was the presentation of a book to the Presbytery from Miss Tien Fuh Wu, who is retiring this year after many years of service at the Presbyterian Mission Home for girls in San Francisco, Calif. The book tells of the vital role played by the home, in Chinatown.

Many members of the Stroudsburg auxiliary took part in the meeting, preparing a dinner for the executive board on Thursday night, entertaining the officers as overnight guests and serving as regesters at the sessions.

Mrs. Frank Grimm, Mrs. B. I. Fandler, Mrs. Elton Denning, Mrs. M. R. Kiefer and Mrs. Homer Heller served as ushers at the afternoon meeting.

Construction Of 5,000 Homes Seen Possible At Tobyhanna

Planner Tells Community Of Responsibility

Tobyhanna—Complimenting the people and officials of this community and the township for their foresight in seeking to set up an expert municipal master plan, Clifton E. Rodgers, planning consultant, told citizens this week that only about four per cent of communities have had the foresight to carefully plan their municipalities.

Mr. Rodgers said a consultant may be likened to a physician who delves into a case and makes recommendations. The people of communities under planning studies have a great deal of responsibility, he said.

Tobyhanna, unlike Perryopolis, Pa., which had one and a half millions left to it, has no such finances. However, the consultant emphasized, the community has resources which must be utilized to the fullest extent for the future of the region and its people.

One possible responsibility which now stands out is planning and construction of over 5,000 homes when and if they are needed, he said, to meet the impact of thousands of employees at the Signal Corps depot.

Mr. Rodgers related his experiences of planning for many communities and his activities in connection with plans for over 5,000 individual homes.

He cited his consultant experiences on redevelopment and demolition of some 5,000 homes in regions where lack of planning required such action. Poorly planned areas have resulted in costs of $30 to $350 per capita, he advised.

Emphasizing that a community is a place in which to live and work, Mr. Rodgers said it is like a corporation with all citizens as stockholders. As such each one has the right to know their community assets and liability.

Need for planning is heightened by the fact a $30 million depot is being thrust in a region with a $385 thousand valuation, he said.

It is a community responsibility to plan their municipality properly for homes, schools, streets, adequate traffic control. Sound planning he said went into such regions as Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Planning must be complete and related to demands, he advised. Not all those who work at Signal Corps depot, may live in Tobyhanna, but if planning does not cover that contingency, the region will be exposed to competition from communities in proximity of the installation.

The plan cannot be dictated by the consultant or anyone else, but must be the result of the people, their supervisors and their Zoning Commission which is the recommending agency for supervisors' action on municipal plans. Plans must have certain minimum standards, but must be flexible and with such range that future problems can be met soundly, Mr. Rodgers advised.

The consultant expressed the opinion that people of the region "are open-minded" and will accept a practical municipal plan based solely on needs.

These officers were re-elected. Warren Nonnenmacher, president; Mrs. P. D. Frankenfeld, vice president; Miss Elizabeth Leonard, secretary and Martin Scanlon, treasurer.

Mr. Joseph Murray outlined plans for county-wide X-ray of all persons 18 years old and up the week of May 14. The league is co-operating. There will be a house-to-house canvas on this project.

A clean-up-paint-up project is being sponsored by the league.

Officers reported meeting with Jay Smith, representative of Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co. relative to large acreage owned by that firm in Coalbaugh Township which might be used for housing development.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Troxell, of Northampton, spent the weekend at their home in town.

On Tuesday night a group of men of the St. Matthews congregation worked on the electrical wiring of the church, preliminary to the installation of the new lighting fixtures which should soon arrive.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peters, of Jeffersonville, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Danner, of Danners Grove Crossroads, visited Mr. and Mrs. George Smith on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mack, of Rutherford, N.J., spent the weekend at their summer home here in town.

Mrs. Ray George and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel George, of Wind Gap, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Christman on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Christman visited Mrs. Christman's grandmother, Mrs. Belle Latchaw, at Topton on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smale visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smale at Saylorsburg on Saturday night. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smale, of Palmerston, called on Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smale.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nicholas called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher at Gilbert on Saturday night.

At the close of a pleasant afternoon refreshments were served to: Mrs. Elsie Van Why, Mrs. Mabel Hippier, Mrs. Mary Walker, Mrs. Edith Neyhart, Mrs. Helen Wagner, Mrs. William Fetherman, Mrs. Robert Field, Sandra Fetherman, Rev. Allan Smith, Johnny Field and the hostess, Mrs. Marsh.

County Fire Units Elect

Tannersville — Edward Judge, Pocono Lake, was elected president of the Monroe County Firemen's association at a meeting here this week which was devoted to study of volunteer fire company participation in civilian defense operations.

Development of a corps of auxiliary firemen to serve in civilian defense and other emergencies was also discussed. Marvin E. Abel, chief of East Stroudsburg Fire department, heads the committee which will train auxiliary firemen.

Scholl was hunting in Middle Smithfield township last November 27 when he shot an unidentified woman in mistake for a deer. The defendant is reported to have fired his gun twice, although the woman was hit only once.

The incident was investigated by Game Protector John Doebling of Stroudsburg, who was assisted by Game Protector Paul L. Failor, of Mount Pocono.

Another of the cases to go to the grand jury is that of the burglar against Frank Furness, 55, of 2319 Agate St., Philadelphia. Furness, who was brought to Monroe jail upon his release from Eastern Penitentiary last winter, is charged with burglaries committed at properties in Chestnuthill and Tobyhanna townships late in 1947.

He was arrested later on other charges preferred in the coal region, and was sentenced on those charges. Consequently, on his release from the penitentiary, Brodheads State police brought him back to Monroe county on a detainer which had been lodged against his record.

A case of involuntary manslaughter against Robert Curtis Snell and another against Donald Hartzell, LaAnna, charging fraud are also slated for grand jury consideration in May.

Hartzell, 51, was arrested and committed to jail March 2 on a charge that he perpetrated a fraud in offering a check, written by another, which later proved worthless.

Complaint against Hartzell was brought by Garden Praetorius, Saylorsburg hotel operator, who cashed the check. Since a hearing in March, the defendant has been held in county jail in default of $1,000 bail.

Other cases include one of adultery against Edith Gallo Young, of Kistler St., East Stroudsburg; another morals charge against Buel Hunt, 21, of 32 Washington St., East Stroudsburg; two counts of assault and battery against William Carroll, 35, of 19 Washington St. east borough.

Also, drunken driving charges against Robert Warner Jr., 26, Pocono Lake, and Gerald D. Staples.

Extended Forecast

Extended forecast for the period through Wednesday, May 2:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and mid-Atlantic states: mostly fair and warm weather; temperature average 10 to 12 degrees above normal; quite warm today, somewhat cooler north portion Sunday and south portion Monday; warmer again Tuesday; scattered showers mostly over north portion Sunday and again Wednesday, total rain one-half to one inch north and a quarter of an inch or less in south portion.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nicholas called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher at Gilbert on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smale visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smale at Saylorsburg on Saturday night.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smale, of Palmerston, called on Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smale.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

As an official story in this section proves, several teams in the Pocono Mountain league are having trouble deciding on the club roster for 1951. This column reported the other day that several clubs in this area were casting eyes at the same players and each counted the boy as in the bag. However, the clubs weren't able to present their rosters due to the fact that the players in question haven't definitely chosen one team over the other as yet.

However, as pointed out by John Werner, secretary of the Pocono Mountain league, all team rosters and entrance fees must be presented to the league at a special meeting to be held at the Bartonsville hotel a week from Monday. Players aren't as plentiful as they were a year ago, as the various clubs are now finding out, and each team is out to grab the best material possible. The battle for players will undoubtedly last right up until the very last minute. Rosters were originally due at the April 16 meeting.

Clint Beeseker, a member of Pocono A. C. and well known diamond figure in Monroe county, will definitely miss tomorrow's exhibition contest at Gordon Giffel's field against Riegel Ridge. Beeseker injured an ankle and foot while sliding into second base during a practice session. Although the veteran hurler is much improved, he will be on the sidelines in the first exhibition, as he finds it almost impossible to place full weight on the injured limb.

Baseball fans of this area are urged to set their clocks ahead one hour tonight, so they won't be late for tomorrow's contest between Pocono A. C. and Riegel Ridge. Daylight Saving time takes over in the wee hours tomorrow morning. Fans are also asked to keep in mind the fact that there will be no admission charged for Sunday's encounter, except for a collection that will be taken up on the inside. The club is hopeful of selling itself to the public in this manner.

The Endicott-Johnson Shoe Co. baseball team is hopeful of playing a game in Monroe county this summer. However, all proceeds from the contest must go to charity, except for expenses. The club is chosen annually from 20,000 employees and should be a pretty fair country baseball squad.

I wonder if playing the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg baseball game on a Saturday afternoon would be the answer to the current trouble over a suitable date? Although a baseball game between the two schools appears to be less crowd pleasing than the football and basketball dates, the adults of the area still want to see it take place—not to mention the students of both schools.

Guy "Turk" Possinger, former basketball star at Stroudsburg High school, was awarded a varsity basketball letter recently at Perkiomen Prep, Pottsville, Pa. The lanky pivot man maintained an average of over 14 points per game despite two very low point contests due to an ankle injury. In addition to pacing the Stroudsburg High team in his junior and senior years, Possinger was one of the major figures in the various cage tournaments held at the Monroe County YMCA.

Emanuel DeVivo, business manager of the Portland Apollos, of the Blue Mountain league, is very pleased with the manner in which the merchants of Portland came through with contributions for the score card. DeVivo was also most pleased with the manner in which Harold Traves gave of his time and ability to solicit ads for the 1951 program. Portland is scheduled to hold a practice session tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 and another on Monday, at 6 p.m.

Dick "Kirk" DePue, pitcher and manager of Bushkill, when the latter was a member of the Pocono Mountain league, narrowly missed losing a finger recently when the tip was cut off the end of the middle finger on his left hand, after being caught in a meat slicer. DePue, a spectator at yesterday's diamond contest between East Stroudsburg and Hellertown, recalled the days when he and Hellertown Coach Charley "Chuck" Brown were team mates on the Moravian College diamond aggregation. DePue, who also played with Bethlehem and Quakertown in the East-Penn league, graduated from Moravian in 1942.

Those who saw the game at East Stroudsburg Playground yesterday are still talking about that long foul ball which Ray Steele pounded in the first inning. The ball went a mile into left field but went down in the records as only an official strike. Steele then grounded out to second base, Dick Shuster, freshman right handed pitcher at Stroudsburg High school, is believed to have a great future in the game of baseball—that is if he continues to improve and work hard at the game.

Dainty Potato Chips, number one club in the Delaware Valley Bowling league during the past campaign, rolled a 2,776 match in the ABC Bowling Tournament at St. Paul, Minn., last weekend. The Delaware Valley title holders had games of 907, 846 and 1,015 to their credit.

East Stroudsburg Falls Before Hellertown Nine, 8-7

Rally In Eighth Frame Falls Short

SAFE—Dick Eckert, Hellertown second baseman, is pictured above jumping safely back into first base in the fourth inning yesterday, as a pick-off throw from East Stroudsburg pitcher Harold "Sonny" Eaton to Jerry Rogers fails to catch the base runner napping.

Navy Court Mentor To Speak At Testimonial For Curtis

Ben Carnevale, well known basketball coach at the United States Naval Academy and outstanding after dinner speaker, has been procured to address more than 200 people expected to attend a testimonial dinner for T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, Stroudsburg High school's retired basketball coach, at the Veterans of Foreign Wars post on Thursday, May 24, it was announced last night by Alfred W. Munson, principal at Stroudsburg High school.

Munson further added that Carnevale had been procured for the gala affair by Marty Baldwin, local sportsman and well known athletic figure throughout the eastern and southern sections of the United States.

Carnevale agreed to attend the dinner for Curtis when contacted by Baldwin at Hazleton recently, where the Navy coach was the featured speaker and Baldwin toastmaster at a banquet staged by Hazleton High school.

DICK TRACY

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCES DRAKE

FOR SATURDAY, APRIL 28, 1951
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Aim at complete control of important matters. Use your head. April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Can be very productive, satisfying day if you are on the job, not too sure but more.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Trend to essential duties, work to be done, clever methods can be your day's theme. The vibrations of your thoughts and vibrations can carry you and others.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer)—No time to waste. Get the horns' edge. You have put your own house in order. Live and let live, don't contend every little thing, it only brings grief, unhappiness.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo)—Planetary indications could hardly be better. Success from properly managed effort.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Your sign shares fine vibrations with the top-notch today. Keep hindrances down to minimum, you can. Step ahead.

in business, other interests. Watch trends closely.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—Your offshoots likely to be impatient and a tendency to act without forethought. You know we all find trouble when we go in search of it.

October 23 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Take care of your health. If you if you think you know all the answers, the best are often mistaken, so take heed. Your way around tackle only what you can handle well.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—By not giving worry room in your mind, you may be able to make good headway. May be tendency now to undue excitement.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Your problems well, making intelligent beneficial resolutions you can really go places. Business, professional matters, selling, teaching, students should make progress.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Aspects favor your particular talents and sincere honest efforts. Your activities will have gone over the dam, get what is offered from today's good possibilities.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Like you. Your intuitive sense conferring in doubt will bring happy results. Gain if you go forth confident. Stay put, fall back in case of future security, they are your duty.

YOU BORN TODAY: Executive

ability, leadership qualities, a good sense of humor plus practicality and ability are innate gifts of you of this Taurus natal period. How you cultivate and use these assets are what is important.

Patience, fortitude, persistence, guidance. Don't let any lackadaisical tendency to stymie your advancements or career. Living well can result high attainment if you stick faithfully to your life's work, avoid worry and have faith in God.

SPRINGTIME TEA—The pupils of the second grade at the Ramsey school are shown with their teacher, Mrs. Ethel Farleigh, at the party they had arranged for their mothers and friends.

Ramsey School Graders Entertain Their Parents

The children of the second grade of the Ramsey school yesterday entertained their parents at a spring party which they planned and executed themselves, including the serving of the refreshments.

The program opened with greetings from Marjorie Drake, and three a-songs: "Sing a Song Every Day," "Awake, It's Spring," and "Dear Little Violet."

Each child then presented a picture which he had drawn and described it. There were three recitations, "Spring Messenger" by Larua May Hall; "On Rainy Days," James Farry; and "Bachelor Buttons," by Susan Balmer.

Other children taking part included Robert Beehler, Velvity Davis, Billy Bartron, Carol Copenhafer, Carl Cyphers, Douglas Kitson, Dorothy Bond, George Taylor, Lee Bossler, Viola Counterpart, Susanna Hart, Karlene Baechtold, Donald Henry, Betty Ann Ace, Johnnie Eschenbach, Billy Campbell, Gloria Yoch.

The Young Adults Class of St. Paul's Lutheran church met to quilt on Wednesday evening, with the following ladies assisting: Mrs. Gertrude Learn, Mrs. Ruth Learn, Viola Learn, Leola Nyce, Lulu Walters, Nettie Bisbing, Neillie Mosteller, Nita Butz, Ethel Hill, Mary Singer, and Mrs. Margaret Wilson, from Somers, Conn., who has ordered and sold many quilts for this group.

The Young Adults Class of St. Paul's Lutheran church met on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Jacob Learn, with the following present: Mrs. Betty Brauer, president, Mr. and Mrs. Garret Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Deward Shook, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brong, Mr. and Mrs. Archer Law, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Learn, Miss Dot Hill, Mrs. Evelyn Dodd, Mrs. Vera Walters and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Learn. Plans for the annual bazaar were discussed, which is to be held on the church lawn the evening of June 22. Further plans were discussed for ways and means to help with the Sunday School improvements. Games were played during the social hour which followed the business period, the high light of same being the contest between Rev. Zimmerman, Homer Brong and Archer Law, all of whom drank Coca Cola from a bottle with a nipple on it, which proved very hilarious. Refreshments were served by the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Learn.

The Altar and Rosary Society of Our Lady of Victory church held a special meeting on Monday evening, when plans were discussed for the card party to be held May 4 at eight o'clock in the church auditorium. As usual at such affairs, refreshments will be served and fine prizes are being gathered for the event.

Mrs. Lois Sebring arrived at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Youngkins, on Saturday morning, from St. Petersburg, Fla., where she had spent the winter months at Sunset Hotel.

Donald Arthur Serfass, of the Redwood, Scot Run, celebrated his seventh birthday on Saturday, April 21 at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wunderly. He was the recipient of numerous cards and gifts.

Three young men of the community are home on an eight day furlough from Camp Devens, Mass. They are Nelson Smith, Leslie Woodling of Reeder and Willard Sandt of Chipperfield Drive. They traveled home together by train and will return in Nelson's car to their post next Sunday.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Dailey on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miner and Mr. and Mrs. Olin Weaver, of Tunkhannock.

Mrs. Elsie Dailey and Mrs. Ruth Howell called at the B. H. Granacher home in Scotrun on Monday evening.

Mrs. Margaret Wilson of Somers, Conn., a cousin of Mrs. Ger-

F. S. Tolman 81, Expires At Bushkill

Bushkill — Frank Stevens Tolman, 81, died at his home here at 9:50 a.m. yesterday. He had been in health since December and seriously ill two weeks.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Tolman, of Milo, Me., and had served 25 years as a chemical engineer for the International Paper Co. He retired in 1946, when he came to Bushkill to reside.

He was a member of a Masonic lodge in New York City and was a graduate of the University of Maine, where he became a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity.

Surviving are a son, Franklin R. Tolman, of Bushkill, and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. (DST) Monday at the Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg. Rev. Frank W. Wingerter, Presbyterian pastor, will officiate. Interment will be at the convenience of the family. Friends may pay respects at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Execution Stayed
Harrisburg, (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine yesterday stayed the execution of Dominick Daversi, convicted Greensburg slayer, for the sixth time until the week of July 2. He was scheduled to die next week for killing his wife.

The smoke screen was invented in 1923 by Thomas B. Hine.

Four Airmen Parachute To Safety

Carney, Okla. (AP)—A giant B-36 bomber and an F-51 fighter plane collided yesterday during a practice bombing run on the state capital. Thirteen men were killed.

Witnesses said the six-engine B-36, world's largest bomber, exploded when hit, scattering wreckage and bodies over a square-mile area. Four other airmen parachuted to safety.

The bomber, from Carswell Air Force base at Fort Worth, was believed to have carried a crew of 15 and a civilian technician. The F-51 carried only the pilot.

Officials at Carswell said the B-36 was making a radar bombing run on Oklahoma City. The F-51 was making "pursuit tactical passes" at the huge bomber in interception maneuvers, a Carswell spokesman said.

Residents in this area, some 50 airline miles northwest of Oklahoma City, said the roar of the explosion rattled windows and brought them running from their homes.

At least eight parachutes were seen to open after the collision. Some of the airmen whose parachutes opened apparently were killed by the explosion or died before they were reached.

The highway patrol dispatched eight units to the scene to assist in finding the cut and broken bodies. Patrolmen established a guard around the wreckage and the bodies at the request of the Air Force. The victims were not identified immediately, pending identification of the next of kin.

The B-36 broke into five pieces. Seven bodies were found near the nose, which was rolled up like an old tin can. About a quarter-mile away the tail assembly, sticking into the air, marked the point where three other bodies lay.

A mile south of the tail was a section of the fuselage with the wings and engines still intact. One of the wing-tip tanks holding fuel for the bomber's jet engines had broken loose and sailed over the ground and burst into flames.

The body of the F-51 pilot lay crumpled near the wing.

Apparently the fighter plane struck the big silver ship between the wing and tail section.

One unidentified survivor said the pilot had time to order the crew to bail out. He said he and two others were in the tail section. One of the three did not have a parachute. The others got away before the explosion.

One witness said the body of one victim struck the ground so hard that it made a hole ten inches deep.

The wreckage of the F-51 also was scattered over a wide area of the rolling farm land of Lincoln county, in east-central Oklahoma.

The smaller plane was one of four fighters from Will Rogers field at Oklahoma City which were engaged in the maneuvers. They were assigned to Air National Guard units recently federalized into regular Air Force service.

It was the second collision involving military aircraft this week. A Cuban airliner and a Navy plane collided over Key West, Fla., Wednesday, killing 43 persons.

Eleven crewmen were killed in another Air Force plane crash announced yesterday. A spokesman at Walker Air Force base, Roswell, N. M., said a B-29 cracked up and burned Thursday in the Azores while making an emergency landing. Eleven men were killed and five injured. The B-29 was stationed at the New Mexico base, was on a training mission.

OPST To Order Rollbacks On Live Cattle Prices; Provide Specific Ceilings

Washington, (AP)—The government plans to announce dollars-and-cents ceiling prices on beef tonight.

Officials who reported this last night said the orders provide for progressive rollbacks on prices of live cattle with eventual lower prices to consumers—but with no immediate effect on retail prices of meat.

One official told a reporter the orders will bring cutbacks of three to four cents a pound at retail in mid-summer, with a similar reduction to follow next fall.

Price Director Michael V. D'Adda was reported to have met stiff opposition from the Agriculture department in his plan to cut cattle prices. Reporters were told the final decision to go ahead was made at the White House level.

An Office of Price Stabilization (OPST) official said that by starting at the live animal base a price squeeze on wholesalers and retailers will be relieved. Slaughterers have had to pay steadily rising prices for animals but have been forbidden to pass on these increased costs.

British Ammunition Ship Explodes While Unloading; 10 Killed, 1,000 Injured

Gibraltar, (AP)—The 1,152-ton British ammunition ship Bedenham blew up yesterday with an earth-shaking blast as she unloaded at this Mediterranean rock fortress. Ten workers were believed killed and more than 1,000 injured.

Naval authorities said 500 tons of ammunition—all aboard the Bedenham—went up in smoke.

The blast, described by witnesses as the "worst ever heard," smashed nearly all the windows in Gibraltar town at the base of the rock and shattered others in La Linea, a mile away on the Spanish mainland. Many of the injured were victims of flying glass.

It was understood a fire on a lighter alongside the Bedenham touched off the ship's cargo of ammunition as it was being carried to storage houses at the ordnance wharf. The lighter also blew up. Authorities were investigating the possibility of sabotage.

Travis J. Seese, assistant chief of East Stroudsburg police, said the coupe, a 1939 model, was taken from in front of the Whittaker service station on N. Carroll St. at approximately 5 p.m., although attendants were not sure anything was amiss until 8 p.m.

The car bears Pennsylvania license tag ZU575.

The vehicle, which has been kept at the service station, was reportedly moved to the street to facilitate movement of other cars at the station.

House Unit Cuts Appropriations

Washington, (AP)—A 10 per cent cut in the 1952 fiscal year budget of 27 Federal agencies was recommended yesterday by the House Appropriations committee.

The committee asked the House to give these agencies—whose budgets are lumped into a single bill—$6,171,777,440 for the 12 months starting July 1. This is $665,900,025 less than President Truman requested.

Mr. Bensinger also indicates that Skyline Inn will be available for residential guests during "off" seasons and that plans also call for development of patronage from business groups, small convention and conference groups.

Both resort properties have been successful resort operations under the late Mr. Howlett, catering to an excellent clientele. Work will be rushed to get both properties in operation in the near future.

Draft Measure Delayed Month

Washington, (AP)—The firing of General MacArthur yesterday brought a delay of at least two weeks—more likely a month—in efforts to reach a compromise on new draft-UMT legislation.

"Senators will be completely occupied next week and for some time in the MacArthur hearings," Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services committee explained to reporters.

He referred to the hearings his committee and the Senate Foreign relations committee will conduct into the MacArthur issue.

14,000 To Be Seized

Washington, (AP)—Congress has been notified that at least 14,000 persons will be rounded up in the United States and placed in political detention camps in the event of full-scale war. The figures were furnished by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Congressman Dies

Washington, (AP)—Rep. Frank Buchanan (D-Pa.) died last night in the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., after an illness of four weeks. Buchanan, 48, was from Pittsburgh. He was first elected to the 79th Congress at a special election in 1946 and had been a member since.

A MOTOR OF THE WRECKED Miami-to-Havana-airliner, which collided in the air above Key West, Fla., with a Navy training plane, is hoisted aboard a Navy barge. The service craft, flying blind at the time of the accident, carried four persons and the DC-4 had 39 aboard. No one from either plane survived. Pilot of the Navy SNC trainer was Lt. Robert L. Sturtz (inset) of Key West.

Two Howlett Hotels Sold To Area Men

One of the most important resort-hotel real estate transactions to be completed in the Pocono Mountains was announced yesterday as the transfer of ownership of the Pocono Mountain Inn in Upper Paradise Valley and the Skyline Inn, Mount Pocono, to a regional group of experienced resort hotelmen.

Both properties are part of the estate of the late Thomas S. J. Howlett and were operated for years by Mr. Howlett. The change in ownership did not affect St. Patrick's Inn, near Mount Pocono, nor the famed Pocono Canyons Lodge in Skyline Park, also part of the Howlett estate.

Attorney Charles R. Bensinger is taking title to Pocono Mountains Inn and Skyline Inn for the local group which will set up a corporation. Full liquor licenses go with both places which are also completely furnished and equipped for operations.

The new owners negotiated the purchase with Attorney C. D. Shull, Stroudsburg, who represents the Howlett estate.

It is understood they moved yesterday to complete inventories of contents of both properties and have already planned to name a top-flight resort hotelman as manager of both properties in time for operation during the 1951 season.

Pocono Mountains Inn, formerly the Crestwood hotel, was extensively developed by Mr. Howlett when he became the owner. The same is true of Skyline Inn, which was formerly the Devonshire Pines at Mount Pocono.

Pocono Mountain Inn has 44 fully equipped rooms, extensive kitchen facilities, a bar, public rooms and the famous Rainbow room which has been operated as a resort night club.

There are 72 acres of land with the Pocono Mountain Inn property and a large, modern swimming pool.

The new owners indicated yesterday they plan to develop this property as an extensive cottage colony centering around the main hotel property.

Skyline Inn property has nine acres and in addition to the 84-room main hotel, two large cottages—the Bradley and Coan cottages—are included in the transfer.

Skyline Inn will be operated on a year-round basis. The joint operation during summer seasons will make the big Pocono Mountains Inn pool and its famous Rainbow room available to Skyline guests.

Interrupted from time to time by Democrats, the Republican-led also declared that unless Congress takes a firm stand "we will wake up some morning" and find that when he called the appeasement policies of Secretary of State Dean Acheson have been adopted.

In an angry Republican-Democratic debate in the Senate, Taft called for immediate adoption of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's strategy against the Communists.

Interrupted from time to time by Democrats, the Republican-led also declared that unless Congress takes a firm stand "we will wake up some morning" and find that when he called the appeasement policies of Secretary of State Dean Acheson have been adopted.

Taft upheld the MacArthur program for making use of Chinese Nationalist forces under Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa and for air operations over Manchuria. Bomb the Reds at their home bases, he urged.

He said Acheson's policy involves appeasing the Chinese Reds by surrendering Formosa and admitting them to the United Nations. He dismissed President Truman's announced plan to confine the war to Korea if possible. That can't go on forever, Taft said.

Allied Troops Withdraw All Along Front

Tokyo, Saturday (AP)—The Allies were withdrawing all along the muddy Korean battlefield today before Chinese Communists hordes who cut a vital east-west supply road and menaced Seoul.

United Nations forces on the western front pulled back an unspecified distance north of the ruined capital of South Korea. Until the new withdrawal heavy fighting had swirled within 10 miles of the battered city.

Thousands of civilians streamed south out of Seoul while Allied artillery within the city hammered away at the onrushing Reds.

On the central front, the strategic highway town of Kapyong on the important Seoul-Chuncheon highway was abandoned to attacking Communists.

Kapyong, 33 air miles northeast of Seoul, lies on the road which has linked the western front with the central front.

The enemy cutting of the highway, however, was too late to trap any Allied units. Reports to Eighth Army headquarters said all Allied troops in the area had withdrawn before Kapyong fell.

Of all the hard-won territory in North Korea only a narrow bridgehead remained between the Pukhan river and the Inje-Hyon road on the mountainous east-central front.

Back in the west, the U.S. Eighth Army communiques said the Communists put heavy pressure on the Allies south of Munsan all day Friday. But in the late afternoon U.N. forces broke contact and withdrew to a new defense line.

Munsan, 23 air miles northwest of Seoul, was the point where American paratroopers made a spectacular landing behind Red lines only last month. It is one main Red invasion path leading to Seoul. Along this path were massacred an estimated 300,000 Chinese Reds.

The pressure of this horde was felt in terrific fighting around Uijongbu, gateway to Seoul 11 miles north of the capital.

An entire enemy battalion was destroyed northeast of Uijongbu by artillery and rifle fire.

An enemy regiment attacked at 1 p.m. in the Uijongbu sector. Two hours later the Allied forces withdrew to Uijongbu.

Except on the western front, the Allied withdrawal was at a faster rate than the casually ridded Chinese and North Koreans could advance.

The situation north of Seoul, however, was not clear, AP Correspondent Robert Eunson reported from Eighth Army headquarters. He said the Allies were withdrawn in an orderly fashion.

DeAngelis Claims He Lost $50,000 Kickback At Races

Rome, (AP)—Capt. John J. DeAngelis told a court martial trying him for embezzlement yesterday he got a $50,000 kickback on a U.S. government contract and lost it betting on horse races in Rome.

The defendant, a resident of Nesquehoning, Pa., testified he got the money through an arrangement with an Italian company which has a contract of more than $2,200,000 for supplying marble crosses for U.S. military cemeteries.

DeAngelis, a 31-year-old war veteran, testified in his own defense before an Air Force court martial on a charge that he misappropriated $80,000 from the Rome office of the American Battle Monuments Commission. He has pleaded innocent.

Wholesale Price Index Advances

Washington, (AP)—Price rises in foods and farm products pushed the government's wholesale price index upward another 0.3 per cent in the week ending last Tuesday.

The index on April 24 was 183.6 per cent of the 1926 average, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported. Small declines in fuels and chemicals were more than offset by advances in farm products and foods.

The index was two per cent above the level prevailing January 23, just before the price and wage freeze. It was 17 per cent above the pre-Korea level and 19.2 per cent above a year ago.

Muhlenberg Choir Here Sunday Night

Considerable local interest is attached to the appearance of the Chapel choir of Muhlenberg College in St. John's Lutheran church, Stroudsburg, tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. Daylight Saving time. Richard Manheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Manheim of East Stroudsburg is serving as the accompanist for this group of college singers under the direction of Harold K. Marks, Mus. D., professor of music at Muhlenberg.

This group has won a fine reputation for the presentation of high class church music during the past ten years. Each year they are in demand in many sections of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

Tomorrow night's service will include the following numbers: "Alma Mater" by Kistler-Marks; "Wake Soul of Mine" by Henry Wallis; "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by Bach; "We Hasten to Ask for Thine Aid" by Bach; "Go Not Far From Me" by Morgan; "Once to Every Man and Nation" by Perdue-Davis; "Thanks Be to Thee" by Handel; "Psalm 150, Franck"; "Dearest Lord Jesus" by Bach; "Now Thank We All Our God" by Mueller; "Dona Nobis Pacem" arr. by Wilson and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones" by Gebb.

An invitation is extended to all music lovers of the community to attend this service tomorrow night. The pastor, Dr. P. N. Wohlsen will be in charge. At the service at 11 a. m. the pastor will speak on the subject "Our Prescription." Music will be furnished by the Senior and Junior choirs.

Church Plans
Special Music

Special music will feature the 11 a. m. worship service of the Stroudsburg Methodist church on Sunday.

"The Seraphic Song" will be sung by the combined Youth and Senior choirs assisted by Mrs. Beryl Williams, contralto soloist. Robert H. Hawlik will play a violin obligato with the soloist. The combined choir will also sing "Hark, Hark My Soul".

The pastor, Rev. Francis C. Thomas, will preach on the theme "The Mysteries of God Revealed".

The first night Rev. Chatfield spoke on the necessity of unity among Christians to effect a revival. He also reminded the people that the Constitution of the U. S. was born in prayer and that no nation can expect the blessing and favor of God if it does not recognize Him and abide by His precepts.

Wednesday night the evangelist discussed the truth that we are co-laborers with God. Last night he spoke from the theme, "Where Art Thou?"

Rev. Miller said yesterday he and his congregation are grateful for the support given by many friends of the church during the past year.

The pastor, Rev. Francis C. Thomas, will preach on the theme "The Mysteries of God Revealed".

In the 7:30 p. m. chapel service, the pastor will continue his series on "Prayer". The theme for this service is "Attention In Prayer". Robert B. Haigh, baritone, will sing a solo entitled "Thou Art the Christ". Albert J. Fregans minister of music, will be in charge of the music at both services.

Four Hurt, One Seriously, When Hit By Car

Driver Held For Court On Charge

A five-year-old boy, his mother and father, and a five-weeks-old baby brother were injured shortly before 11 p. m. Thursday when they were hit by a car which bore down on them as they were walking to their home on the Foxtown Hill section of Route 611.

The injured, James Ludwig, 32, Stroudsburg RD 1; his wife, Elizabeth, 28; five-year-old Charles Ludwig and the infant son, Henry, were removed to Monroe County General hospital after passing motorists notified Stroudsburg State police.

Ludwig, his wife and the five-weeks-old baby escaped with only superficial injuries, but five-year-old Charles was in serious condition at the hospital last night.

He received a possible skull fracture, a fracture of the upper right leg, and abrasions and lacerations on the right side of his face.

All four of the injured persons were admitted and held as patients.

Hospital authorities said that the condition of Charles Ludwig was "as good as can be expected" at 10 p. m. They added that physicians have found the infant, Henry, to be in good condition, and that the baby, the mother and the father will probably be permitted to leave the hospital today.

The car, which ran into the family and also killed a small dog, pet of the five-year-old, never stopped at the scene but continued down the hill into Stroudsburg.

Two alert passersby in a car which was passed by the hit-run vehicle swung about on the highway and chased the car long enough to ascertain its license number.

This information, in the hands of Pfc. Alex G. Kearn and Stephen Sabin, of the Stroudsburg State police detachment, resulted in the pre-dawn arrest of Paul H. Schaller, 32-year-old mechanic, of 114 N. Ninth St.

Schaller was charged with failing to stop at the scene of accident when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser in East Stroudsburg at 2:30 p. m. The justice held Schaller for court under $500 bail.

According to an account which several of the victims gave State troopers and District Attorney Detleff A. Hansen, the Ludwig family was walking along the left edge of the highway just above the uphill turn and not far from the Stroudsburg bridge line when the accident occurred. They were walking the short distance to their home.

An older son, David, was reported to have been walking uphill at the side of the road ahead of the others. He was followed by Mrs. Ludwig, who was carrying the baby in her arms. The father, the lad, Charles, and the dog were bringing up the rear.

They said they saw the car coming downhill toward them at a moderate speed, and that the machine seemed to veer toward them as it reached the section of the highway along which they were walking.

All scrambled to get out of the way, but the right front of the car struck Mrs. Ludwig's leg as she stood near the guard rail holding the baby away from her over the railing in an attempt to shield it.

As she was knocked against the railing, the infant slipped out of her hands and fell to the ground.

The car then hit the dog, young Charles, and the father. The dog was killed instantly, and the father and son were thrown to the guard rail.

Police said Richard Hammond and James McNamara, in a car driven by Hammond, noticed the figures against the guard rail as they came uphill after passing the hit-run car on the lower side of the curve.

They recalled that they could not see the point at which the

Everything From Plant Hormones To Burglar Protection Displayed At Science Fair Here

If you are the kind of person who likes to push buttons and fiddle around with strange-looking gadgets to see what will happen, you'll keep very busy at the Northeastern Pennsylvania science fair.

Almost 200 exhibits are displayed in the American Legion home in East Stroudsburg. They represent all the major fields of science—biology, chemistry, engineering and physics.

For those interested in gardening there is a display of commercial food culture containing vitamins and plant hormones. Take a look at this exhibit and you'll know how to grow those "bigger and better" tomato plants.

Nearby there is a plastic demonstration which shows how plastic is processed and the numerical ways it is utilized in a modern industrial society.

This is the final day for the fair. It will be open to the public from 1 to 9 p. m.

Coordinator of the fair is Thomas H. Knepp, head of the science department at Stroudsburg High school and president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science.

He has been assisted by Dr. W. G. Moore, chairman of the judges; Andrew W. Lewis and Alfred J. Ravelli, in charge of finances; Michael F. Hannon, chairman of properties.

Members of the fair's advisory committee, in addition to the men listed above, are Ernest H. Wyckoff, Earl F. Groner.

Both grand prizes in the junior and senior division respectively were contributed by Dr. Claus G. Jordan and Mr. Wyckoff.

For homeowners who want burglar protection, there is an exhibit which shows how a warning bell system can be attached to doors and windows.

Ludwigs were hit when the other vehicle passed them going downhill, but they said they observed that the other machine appeared to be veering away from the guard rail and later recalled commenting on that possibility as the headlights came toward them.

On sighting the injured parties, they immediately turned about on the highway and sped back downhill where they caught up with the other car in front of Lee's diner on Park Ave.

Copying the license number, then swinging about, they hurried back up the hill to the victims.

District Attorney Hansen said Schaller was questioned at his home on Ninth St., after the registration number of the car had been checked with police files.

The car was inspected and Schaller was taken to Monroe County General hospital where an examination showed that he was not under the influence of intoxicants.

The district attorney said, however, that in a statement to police, the defendant admitted having driven to a tavern in Delaware Water Gap late Thursday after first stopping at several places in Stroudsburg.

Schaller also told the troopers that he had seen what he thought were three women as he drove down the Stroudsburg side of the mountain, but he insisted he never knew he had hit anyone.

He had heard a woman's scream, he admitted, but didn't stop because he didn't think he was involved, he said. He later told his wife on reaching his home that "something must have happened on Foxtown hill" because he had heard a woman screaming.

After the examination at the hospital, Schaller was taken to county jail to await the hearing before Justice Bonser. At that time, he was represented by Atty. James C. Scanlon.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

From a speech by Phil Murray, of the C.I.O.: A circus barker was teaching his young son how to manipulate a big, black whip. "Let's see you flick the top apart off that tree," suggested the boy. The barker did it with ease. "Now flick the fly off that horse's ear," the boy ordered. It was done so neatly, the horse never blinked an eye. Then the boy pointed to a wasp's nest in the crook of a tree branch and said: "How about taking that nest off with your whip, daddy?" The barker said "Nothing doing, son; they're organized."

One of the big laughs in "Life with Mother" came when an objectionably smug visitor told Father his country place looked bare, and "needed more trees." "We've got a lot planted," said Father with an edge to his voice, "but they're very young yet. I hope they'll be full grown by the time you visit us again."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — Helen Hayes is making her first movie in 16 years—and she's "terrified."

"I never did anything in my life that I wasn't," the grand little lady of the American theater reflected. "The worst thing is, it gets worse as you get older."

The five-foot, 50-year-old actress is playing Robert Walker's mother in "My Son John." The plot's a secret, but it has something to do with a mother's suffering when her son, a government employee, turns Commie.

Director Lee McCay had a tough time luring Miss Hayes back to the screen. Numerous long-distance calls to her in New York got only polite refusals. He tried putting pressure through mutual friends. Then he turned up without warning at her door. His detailed description of the part got her to accept. But it was all this attention, she says, that has left her "still terrified—though they tell me the picture is going well."

She came here with her adopted son Jamie, 13; her cook, her maid for 18 years, and a French poodle. They occupy a Beverly Hills house rented from Actor Kent Smith.

Miss Hayes never sees the projection-room showings of previous days' shooting—"they make me nervous and insecure." She tried it years ago, at Gary Cooper's urging during a filming of "A Farewell to Arms." Self-consciousness ruined her next day's work. She told me: "All I could think of was getting pretty angles. It was so artificial. Instead of going to the rushes, I trust Leo McCay to tell me if I'm wrong."

The only way he has corrected her is to slow down her characteristic rapid gestures. Overprojection from stage habit is no problem, Helen said. "I've done so much radio work it's easy to pull my voice down." She said she hadn't returned to pictures sooner because: "The time was never right. I was always tied up with a play or radio series."

Miss Hayes won an Academy Oscar for her first movie, "The Sin of Madelon Claudet." Her husband, Charles MacArthur, owns one for the screenplay of "The Scoundrel." The two Oscars are at opposite ends of their mantel. Would she like another? "It would be nice to have one in the middle," she replied.

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

The World-Herald of Omaha, Nebraska, has a circulation of about 250,000. It is published, for one issue only, a series of 18 questions on current matters and asked its readers to express their opinions. Astonishingly, about 24,300 readers went out of their way to note their answers—which is a very high percentage, considering that the questions were printed only once.

The first question was: "Would you vote for a military man for president?" To this the replies show a marked difference of opinion. The men show that 49.2 per cent would vote for a military man; surprisingly, the women run just about as the men do, 49.5 per cent. Roughly, then, it shows that about half of these people oppose a military man for president, which is important, because the only military man who is now an active candidate for the presidency is General Dwight D. Eisenhower. If the voters hold to that ratio in 1952, Eisenhower could not be elected. However, 1952 is far off and no conclusions could be reached now as to what will be the atmosphere then. Politicians, however, do take such polls as these seriously, for they are in the business of eliminating unfavorable chances.

The second question was: "Would you vote for President Truman if he were up for re-election today?"

The replies showed that 95 per cent of the men and 95.7 per cent of the women would not today vote for Harry Truman. In the 1948 election, Nebraska went Republican, but by no such vote as this. Actually, this is what happened in 1948:

Dewey 284,774
Truman 224,105

The shift in public opinion is therefore enormous. What is even more astonishing is that Dean Acheson is not quite as unpopular in this Omaha poll as President Truman. To the question as to his suitability, the vote that he is unsuitable runs 94.1 per cent men; 94.3 per cent women.

Going to the 18th question, we read:

The first question was:

"Would you vote for President Truman if he were up for re-election today?"

The replies showed that 95 per cent of the men and 95.7 per cent of the women would not today vote for Harry Truman. In the 1948 election, Nebraska went Republican, but by no such vote as this. Actually, this is what happened in 1948:

Dewey 284,774
Truman 224,105

The shift in public opinion is therefore enormous. What is even more astonishing is that Dean Acheson is not quite as unpopular in this Omaha poll as President Truman. To the question as to his suitability, the vote that he is unsuitable runs 94.1 per cent men; 94.3 per cent women.

Going to the 18th question, we read:

"Would you vote for a military man for president?" To this the replies show a marked difference of opinion. The men show that 49.2 per cent would vote for a military man; surprisingly, the women run just about as the men do, 49.5 per cent. Roughly, then, it shows that about half of these people oppose a military man for president, which is important, because the only military man who is now an active candidate for the presidency is General Dwight D. Eisenhower. If the voters hold to that ratio in 1952, Eisenhower could not be elected. However, 1952 is far off and no conclusions could be reached now as to what will be the atmosphere then. Politicians, however, do take such polls as these seriously, for they are in the business of eliminating unfavorable chances.

Jr. Women To Install New Members

The Junior Women's club will hold its last formal meeting of the year on Tuesday night, May 1, at 8 p. m. at the Stroud Community House. At that time the new members received into the club during the past year will be formally installed in a candle-light ceremony prepared by Mrs. Harry Phillips and Mrs. Douglas Townsend, chairmen of the membership committee.

Mrs. Howard Atwell, music chairman, has arranged special music for the meeting.

Mrs. Harold Storm and Mrs. Fred Rhodes, chairmen, will announce plans for the annual banquet to be held May 22. It will be a closed meeting for members only.

Refreshments will be served by the hostesses. Mrs. Theodore Hoffman and Mrs. Chester Bonner are listed as hostesses with Mrs. Fred Berryman, Mrs. Justin Foltham, Miss Margaret McLaren, Mrs. Bernard Rowe, Mrs. Pearl Werkheiser, Mrs. Paul Flory, Mrs. Chester Miller, Mrs. Charles Bensinger and Mrs. Floyd Warner on the committee.

Miss Detrick Graduating As Nurse

Scotrun — Miss Emilie Ann Detrick, daughter of Mrs. Ada Detrick, of Scotrun, will be graduated as a nurse from the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Brooklyn in exercises to be held on May 7.

A graduate of Pocono township High school, Tannersville in the class of 1948, Miss Detrick will be among 51 young women to receive nursing diplomas at the commencement in All Saints church, Brooklyn. Bishop G. Bromley Osman, of the Methodist church and Rev. Phillips Packer Elliott, of the First Presbyterian church of Brooklyn will speak.

Mrs. Detrick, and a group of friends plan to attend the commencement exercises.

Junior Crusaders At Bartonsville

Bartonsville.—The April meeting of the Junior Crusader class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school was held at the parish house on Wednesday night, April 25, with Robert Field presiding. The Scripture lesson was read by the chaplain, Lois Getz. An illustrated Bible lesson, "The Parable of the Sower" was presented by Miss Mildred Bauer, Bible club teacher. Haviland Heller, Sunday school superintendent, also spoke briefly on the same topic.

Refreshments were served by the Getz children. Those attending were: Carol Cramer, Grace Labadie, Lois Getz, Judy Getz, Ronald Swink, Walter Getz, Donald Getz, Robert Field, Haviland Heller, Miss Bauer and Mrs. Beata Swink.

Sisterhood Meeting

Sisterhood of the Temple Israel will hold its final business meeting of the season on Tuesday night, May 1, in the vestry rooms of the Temple Israel. Nomination and election of officers will be featured and final reports given in the year's activities. Every member is urged to be present.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The Friday afternoon shoppers sort of gaped yesterday when right in the middle of the busy day, 373 women suddenly erupted out of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian church.

Actually they came out with due and proper decorum, but 373 extra women on Main St. are bound to seem like a volcanic eruption.

It was the annual Presbyterical meeting of the Lehigh Valley, and a fascinating thing it was, too, to eavesdrop on their impressions of the town, the church, the committee and the food. Liked them all, they did, and we really were showing off to good advantage in the spring sunshine.

Let's just hope it lasts through today on account of the pet show, for one thing. The YMCA full of wet dogs, bedraggled canaries, and damp goats would advertise its presence as far as the state bridge, I'll bet.

Faithful Workers Contribute To Cancer Fund

The Faithful Workers class of the Zion Ev. and Reformed church met on Wednesday night when they voted to give $3 to the Cancer Crusade.

Plans were made for the May meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Pipher, Ann St., Stroudsburg.

A social time was climaxed by refreshments of salad, sandwiches, cake and coffee served by the hostesses. Miss Mildred Anderson, Miss Helen Shick and Mrs. D. W. Frankenstein.

Members present included Mrs. Frank Blatt, Mrs. Milo Kresge, Mrs. D. W. Frankenstein, Mrs. Ernest Setzer, Mrs. Walter Leckebusch, Mrs. Mary Vough, Mrs. Floyd Butz, Mrs. Harry Hoffman, Mrs. Walter Hoffman, Mrs. Ruth Bassard, Mrs. Norman Gregory, Miss Helen Shick, Miss Mildred Anderson, Mrs. J. Local Clubwomen
To Attend State Convention

The Federated Women's clubs of the county will be represented at the 54th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs which will open Monday in York, and will adjourn at noon on May 2.

Mrs. Harry W. Schaal, of Erie will preside at the meetings with the theme of the convention, "Know Yourself — Understand Your Neighbor."

Mrs. Paul Koenig, of Spring Grove, a former president of the state federation, is general chairman. She has appointed Mrs. Arthur Helmuth, of Stroudsburg as a member of the registration committee.

Among the speakers will be Dr. William G. Mather and Dr. William M. Smith of Pennsylvania State College; Gore Vidal, writer; Charles Collingwood, CBS Washington correspondent; and state chairman and officials.

Korean Speaks

Gifts of American churches to Korea, meant literally the difference between life and death for hundreds of Koreans. Mrs. Pillai Kim Choi, of Seoul, Korea, told the assembly in a moving talk. She told how dried milk, doled out a cup to each person per day had been all that kept hundreds from dying in the early days of the war, and brought the deep gratitude of her countrymen for what the church people had done to help them.

At the luncheon at the Penn-Stoudt hotel, brief reports by the chairman told of the quotas for the national missions for the coming year.

Rev. Roger P. Entoe, moderator of the Presbytery, who is soon resigning to take up a post with the Board of Foreign Missions in Europe, brought greetings of the Presbytery and urged

The Presbytery closed with a Communion service administered by Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, pastor of the host church.

One of the sidelights of the meeting was the presentation of a book to the Presbytery from Miss Tien Fuh Wu, who is retiring this year after many years of service at the Presbyterian Mission Home for girls in San Francisco, Calif. The book tells of the vital role played by the home in Chinatown.

Many members of the Stroudsburg church auxiliary took part in the meeting, preparing a dinner for the executive board on Thursday night, entertaining the officers as overnight guests and serving as registrars at the sessions.

Mrs. Frank Grimm, Mrs. B. I. Fansler, Mrs. Elton Denning, Mrs. M. R. Kiefer and Mrs. Homer Heller served as ushers at the afternoon meeting.

The Junior luncheon will be held on Tuesday when Dr. Pacita L. Pronove, president of the Junior Women's club of the Philippines will be the speaker.

Representing the Stroudsburg Senior Woman's club will be Mrs. George T. Robinson and Mrs. Frank French. Mrs. James Cummings and Mrs. Olaf Pedersen will represent the Junior Women's club and officials.

The Barrett Woman's club and the Saylorburg Progressive Women as well as the Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs also plan to send delegates.

And anyway, today's the day we all work in the garden if I have to tether each one to a plot until it's dug. Everybody's been having so many other activities that they just melt away, come digging time. However it's going to be a chain gang today—or no party tonight.

Junior Womans club business

Life of Riley
By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

As an official story in this section proves, several teams in the Pocono Mountain league are having trouble deciding on the club roster for 1951. This column reported the other day that several clubs in this area were casting eyes at the same players and each counted the boy as in the bag. However, the clubs weren't able to present their rosters due to the fact that the players in question haven't definitely chosen one team over the other as yet.

However, as pointed out by John Wernett, secretary of the Pocono Mountain league, all team rosters and entrance fees must be presented to the league at a special meeting to be held at the Bartonsville hotel a week from Monday. Players aren't as plentiful as they were a year ago, as the various clubs are now finding out, and each team is out to grab the best material possible. The battle for players will undoubtedly last right up until the very last minute. Rosters were originally due at the circuit April 16 meeting.

Clint Besecker, a member of Pocono A. C. and well known diamond figure in Monroe county, will definitely miss tomorrow's exhibition contest at Gordon Giffels field against Riegel Ridge. Besecker injured an ankle and foot while sliding into second base during a practice session. Although the veteran hurler is much improved, he will be on the sidelines in the first exhibition, as he finds it almost impossible to place full weight on the injured limb.

Baseball fans of this area are urged to set their clocks ahead one hour tonight, so they won't be late for tomorrow's contest between Pocono A. C. and Riegel Ridge. Daylight Saving time takes over in the wee hours tomorrow morning. Fans are also asked to keep in mind the fact that there will be no admission charged for Sunday's encounter, except for a collection that will be taken up on the inside. The club is hopeful of selling itself to the public in this manner.

The Endicott-Johnson Shoe Co. baseball team is hopeful of playing a game in Monroe county this summer. However, all proceeds from the contest must go to charity, except for expenses. The club is chosen annually from 20,000 employees and should be a pretty fair country baseball squad.

I wonder if playing the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg baseball game on a Saturday afternoon would be the answer to the current trouble over a suitable date? Although a baseball game between the two schools appears to be less crowd pleasing than the football and basketball dates, the adults of the area still want to see it take place—not to mention the students of both schools.

Guy "Turk" Possinger, former basketball star at Stroudsburg High school, was awarded a varsity basketball letter recently at Perkiomen Prep, Pottsville, Pa. The lanky pivot man maintained an average of over 14 points per game despite two very low point contests due to an ankle injury. In addition to pacing the Stroudsburg High team in his junior and senior years, Possinger was one of the major figures in the various cage tournaments held at the Monroe County YMCA.

Emanuel DeVivo, business manager of the Portland Apollos, of the Blue Mountain league, is very pleased with the manner in which the merchants of Portland came through with contributions for the score card. DeVivo was also most pleased with the manner in which Harold Trays gave of his time and ability to solicit ads for the 1951 program. Portland is scheduled to hold a practice session tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 and another on Monday at 6 p.m.

Dick "Rick" DePue, pitcher and manager of Bushkill, when the latter was a member of the Pocono Mountain league, narrowly missed losing a finger recently when the tip was cut off the end of the middle finger on his left hand, after being caught in a meat slicer. DePue, a spectator at yesterday's diamond contest between East Stroudsburg and Hellertown, recalled the days when he and Hellertown Coach Charley "Chuck" Brown were teammates on the Moravian College diamond aggregation.

DePue, who also played with Bethlehem and Quakertown in the East-Penn league, graduated from Moravian in 1942.

Those who saw the game at East Stroudsburg Playground yesterday are still talking about that long foul ball which Ray Steele pounded in the first inning. The ball went a mile into left field but went down in the records as only an official strike. Steele then grounded out to second base. Dick Shuster, freshman right handed pitcher at Stroudsburg High school, is believed to have a great future in the game of baseball—that is if he continues to improve and work hard at the game.

Red Sox Sweep Fenway Park Series From Yankees, 4-3

Boston, (P)—The Boston Red Sox, who were expected to flash some hotshot pitching this season, came up with their first route-going pitcher yesterday when Lefty Mel Parnell let them to a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

He was given a big assist by Lou Boudreau who returned to the lineup after a four-day absence because of illness. The former Cleveland manager cracked out two hits including a fifthinning single which drove in what proved to be the winning run.

Parnell was reached for nine hits, including Joe DiMaggio's

Navy Court Mentor To Speak At Testimonial For Curtis

Ben Carnevale, well known basketball coach at the United States Naval Academy and outstanding after dinner speaker, has been procured to address more than 200 people expected to attend a testimonial dinner for T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, Stroudsburg High school's retired basketball coach, at the Veterans of Foreign Wars post on Thursday, May 24, it was announced last night by Alfred W. Munson, principal at Stroudsburg High school.

Munson further added that Carnevale had been procured for the gala affair by Marty Baldwin, local sportsman and well known athletic figure throughout the eastern and southern sections of the United States.

Carnevale agreed to attend the dinner for Curtis when contacted by Baldwin at Hazleton recently, where the Navy coach was the featured speaker and Baldwin toastmaster at a banquet staged by Hazleton High school.

Well Known

This visit won't be the first to this area for the popular Naval mentor, as he directed the basketball discussion at the Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association Clinic at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in June of 1949.

Carnevale made his first hit as an after dinner speaker in this area last June, when he was the featured speaker at the clinic banquet at the Penn-Stroud hotel, at which time he proved almost as good a speaker as coach.

Invitations have been mailed out to all classes to have graduated from Stroudsburg High since Curtis took over the coach duties in 1925, and representatives of the various classes will attend a special meeting at the school on Monday, at 7:30 p.m.

DeNikemen Finish Fourth

Philadelphia—East Stroudsburg State Teachers College finished fourth in a field of ten in the College Class Mile Relay event here at Franklin Field yesterday in the sixty-seventh running of the Penn Relays.

Officers elected for next year were June Melker, president, and Open, secretary-treasurer.

Prizes

Open won high average prize, with a 14.25 score, while high team single honors went to Team One, with a 7.33 score. High match honors for a team went to Team Two, with a 2096 score.

Hazel Godshalk won high single game honors with a 206 score, while Esther Weiderman won high match honors, with a 509 tally.

Industrial Loop Rolls

Industrial league keglers will clash at the Harmon alleys today at 1:30 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Line Masters vs. Tucker's.

Alleys three and four—Hughes vs. Art Metal.

Alleys five and six—Brookdale vs. Local 350.

East Stroudsburg Falls Before Hellertown Nine, 8-7

Rally In Eighth Frame Falls Short

East Stroudsburg High school scored seven runs in two innings yesterday afternoon on the East Stroudsburg Playground diamond, but was unable to do any damage in the other seven and Hellertown's Panthers scratched out an 8-7 victory to ruin the home opener for the Cavaliers who fought their way into the lead in the fifth inning but were unable to stand the pressure.

Harold "Sonny" Eaton, strong armed right hander, deserved a much better fate, but spotty fielding by the supporting cast in the first two innings gave the visiting Panthers contingent three runs that were very tainted.

However, the Panthers became over friendly in the fifth round, when the visiting contingent committed six of its seven errors, allowing the charges of Coach Jack Kist to pick up four important runs.

Battle

Hellertown wasn't to be denied, as the visiting contingent fought back for two more runs in the seventh and three in the eighth, the last spurge sending Eaton to the showers. Ray Steele came on the scene to halt the Panthers in the ninth, but the damage had already been done.

East Stroudsburg remained in the thick of the battle until the last man was out, as the Cavaliers used a couple of walks and as many timely base hits to score three times in the bottom of the eighth. The outcome of the game was in doubt until the final out was registered.

Harold Ace, Eastburg catcher, led the losing team at the plate, banging out three safeties, including a double, in five trips to the dish.

Stroudsburg Bows To Catawauqua Nine, 8-7

Late Spurge Wins For Visiting Team

Stroudsburg High school held a three-run lead over Catawauqua for the best part of five innings at Gordon Giffels field yesterday, but the visiting diamond crew demonstrated its power in the final two frames and the Mountaineers went down to their third Lehigh Valley league defeat without a victory, 5-4. The lone Stroudsburg win was a 7-0 non-league affair against Pen Argyl.

The charges of Coach Jerry Slatgaitis blasted the Catawauqua pitching for three runs in the opening round on walks to Les Stutter and Jack Newell, singles by Allan "Red" Fetherman and Floyd Williams and two Catty errors.

Norman May toiled the seven inning distance on the hill for

TTHS and scattered six Coolbaugh batters.

Tobynna Township opened the scoring in the first inning and held the upper hand the remainder of the distance, although Coolbaugh became rough to handle in the middle frames.

Scoring

Both clubs came up with two runs in the fourth frame, but the visiting TTHS contingent held a 3-2 edge in the fifth round and then took the game out of the doubtful stage with a two-run outburst in the seventh and final round.

Fetherman led the Stroudsburg attack with a perfect three-forthree day at the plate, including a single, double and triple. Bob

Wert, with three hits in four trips to the dish, was the number one contender for Catawauqua.

Dodgers Snap Winning Streak Of Phillies

Philadelphia (AP) — Gil Hodges cracked out two homers and a double yesterday to set off a Brooklyn extra base barrage that blasted the Philadelphia Phillies to an 11-5 defeat.

The Dodgers made seven of their ten hits good for doubles or better. The heavy power enabled them to end a three-game losing streak and snap the high-riding Phils' win skein at five.

Eddie Sawyer had been getting some topnotch hurling the past few days but yesterday the tide turned. The Brooks ripped into "Bubba" Church for three hits and three runs in the second inning, continued their cannonading against rookies Leo Christante and Jack Britt and finally subsided in the final two frames against Milo Can-dini.

First Victory

Behind this assault, lefty Joe Hatten moved on to his first victory of the year although he needed help from Carl Erskine in the ninth. Hatten limited the Phils to five hits until the final frame when he tired. Four straight hits brought in two runs and drove Hatten out. Erksine put out the blaze.

Billy Cox ably aided Hodges in the Dodger attack. He connected for a homer, double and single. "Pee Wee" Reese tripled and Jackie Robinson doubled.

Dee Ennis, Dick Sisler and Gran Hammer each banged out three hits off Hatten.

many of the nation's top speedways. He plans to run six events each week — three qualifying events, a semi-final, a consolation event and a final main race of 15 laps.

More than fifty drivers have already submitted entries for the first event and another twenty-odd racemen are expected to enter by post time. Last year's top winners, George Sleight, Jack Brewer and Ray Fleming, will again head the field of drivers.

Entries may be sent to the Pocono Sunrise Speedway, Blakeslee, Pa. Open competition will prevail for the first two races.

Blakeslee — Pocono Sunrise association.

Speedway opens its second season tomorrow afternoon with a program of six races listed. The half-mile dirt oval considered to be one of the very best of its type in the east, is currently undergoing a complete change but the contractors have assured the track officials that the oval will be ready by opening day.

The track will be governed this year by the East-Penn Racing Association. The association comprises many of the drivers who have raced at the Pocono oval last year. Charley Cregar of Phillipsburg, N.J., is president of the association.

Braves Inflict Ninth Straight Loss On Giants

New York (AP) — A couple of ex-Giants, Willard Marshall and Sid Gordon, made life more miserable for the New Yorkers yesterday as they poled homers to lead the Boston Braves to a 7-3 triumph.

Marshall's blast, a three-run poke that climaxed a five-run spree in the sixth, put the Braves reinstated Eddie Stanky at second and enabled them to capture their fourth straight victory. The Giants went down to their ninth straight defeat.

Changes Lineup

Leo Durocher shook up his lineup like mad and for a while it looked like it was going to help. He put Ray Noble in to catch, reinstated Eddie Stanky at second and spotted young Jack Maguire in right field.

Noble homered in the fourth and Maguire and Stanky hit four-baggers in the fifth to give the Giants a 3-1 margin over lefty Warren Spahn.

Pocono Mountain League To Hold Special Roster Meeting

Bartonsville—Entries in the Pocono Mountain Baseball league will hold a special business meeting here at the Bartonsville hotel a week from Monday, it was announced last night by John Wernett, secretary of the circuit.

The special meeting was made necessary when all the clubs in the circuit failed to present their temporary rosters at the last meeting, when they were due. Several of the clubs also failed to post their entrance fee at the most recent gathering, when all dues were supposed to be paid.

Action

Wernett stated last night that the league would have to take action against those failing to present their rosters and entrance fees at the special gathering.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. Then add the keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check off each letter as you go from left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
